Dear Dr. Sherr,

The home you want of was not originally a Duke family home. It was built by Cyphus (Cyphus) and their family. Sherr's father purchased (acquired) it when he and Sherr returned to live in Idaho (1928) after Sherr's mother died at their home in Rathwaile, Utah, a small community west of Denver in Boulder County. The Duke family home in Waterfall was built by it, on the south west corner of the intersection. A frame house facing east. The house was large pine trees are in the front yard, on either side of the walk leading into the house. Sherr and the Dukes were only as high as the porch very when the family moved away to Rathwaile. I am enclosing a picture of John Henry Duke and his daughter, Sherr's father, taken in front of this later home just in case you need it to include picture of other areas of this fine old home. made and out at what kind of the best materials available. It conditions had been different I would have ~~that~~ loved to have made it and permanent home. It makes me very sad to see it as it now is. Mrs. Duke

The picture I mention in the letter was not with the other family pictures I have. I must have sent it to another family member.
 I'm the future it does come to light I will send it to you.
 I have mother and her brother
 It was children of George Washington Lloyd Jr.
 He built the fine old Maryland house across the
 where the family was born.
